

Kevin R. Grazier, Ph.D. Biography

Dr. Kevin Grazier is a planetary physicist specializing in the dynamics and evolution of the early Solar System and numerical method development. He was also the Investigation Scientist for the main camera aboard the Cassini Spacecraft that spent 13 years orbiting Saturn. After completion of the mission, Dr. Grazier taught computer science at the United States Military Academy in West Point, NY.

Grazier was the science advisor for the TV series Eureka, Defiance, and the Peabody Award-winning Battlestar Galactica, as well as the movies Gravity, Pirates of the Caribbean: Dead Men Tell No Tales, and Escape Room: Tournament of Champions, currently in theatres. Grazier is also the co-author of the Hollyweird Science series of books for Springer Publishing, that explore the depiction of science, scientists, and the culture of science in TV and film. He wrote the pilot episode of the animated edutainment series Space Quest: A Journey Beyond Space, currently in production.

Grazier also appears regularly on documentary television series like History Channel's The Universe, and Science Channel's NASA's Unexplained Files.